We can  stop pandemics if we  stop the cause, not just continue only to treat the symptoms. If we protect wild animals and the  places they live, we can stop future pandemics. Sign the declaration to #EndTheTrade  <http://endthetrade.com>

Of the 1.6 million potential viruses in wild mammals and birds, 700,000 of them could be harmful to humans. If we protect wild animals and the wild places where they live, we can all stay safe. Choose to protect the biodiversity of the planet. Choose to protect human health.

Thank you to @europeaid and EU Commissioner for International Partnerships Jutta Urpilainen for committing €10 million to #EndTheTrade, helping build a strong network of global voices calling for an end to the commercial trade and sale in markets of wild terrestrial animals (particularly birds and mammals), especially for consumption! These efforts will help prevent pandemics, end extinction and protect all life on Earth.
